

Fiscal Year 2010-2011 Year-End Review

Surpassing $3 billion in profits for the first time in its history, the New York Lottery is proud to present its full-year results for fiscal year 2010-11, which ended March 31, 2011. Substantial increases in net win (total bets less prizes) and profit were reported in all eight of the Lottery's Video Gaming facilities, while the Traditional Lottery business saw growth in new games (especially Powerball) that nearly offset declines in older games. In addition, the Lottery received a $380 million licensing fee from Resorts World New York, which won a competitive procurement to open a casino at Aqueduct. In total, the Lottery generated $3.05 billion in profit from $7.86 billion in sales and net win.

All of the Lottery's profit goes to funding K-12 education in New York State. The Lottery's fiscal year 2010-11 earnings represent over 15 percent of total state funding to local school districts.

 Lottery revenue is distributed to local school districts by the same statutory formula used to distribute other state aid to education. It takes into account both a school district's size and its income level; larger, lower-income school districts receive proportionately larger shares of Lottery school funding.
